Translator's Note: In this well-studied book of Ghulam Ahmad's writings, the author quotes from the translation by the "Father of the World" of the Qur'an. Ghulam Ahmad Sajjada Nashin Forgive, My Lord, forgive. In the name of Allah. Of course, I must repent for my saying that which is not correct. I had claimed that there is no God except Allah. This is not correct. Since the time of Moses, to this day, it has been the teaching of all the prophets. Yes, it has been the teaching of Jesus, Muhammad and all the prophets. In the name of Allah. Please forgive me, Lord. My saying that which is not correct. There was a time when I was falsely describing Allah. I now firmly believe that there is no God but Allah. I ask Allah to forgive me for my saying that which is not correct. I ask Allah to forgive me for having said that which is not correct. I had said that there is no God except Allah. That is not correct. I now firmly believe that there is no God except Allah. Please forgive me for my saying that which is not correct. My Lord, forgive me. My saying that which is not correct. I am a man of knowledge. There is no one like me among the prophets. There is no one like me among the prophets. The Messenger of Allah (p) was one of the best in knowledge. Say: "I do not see any one as great as Allah in knowledge, nor in piety." Say: "I do not see 82157476af
